Dissemination Information

Once you have obtained some scientific results using the RES supercomputing facilities and following the 3th item of the RES User Responsibilities document, we appreciate if you could please inform about your activity and scientific results with the aim to disseminate them in different media (website, newsletter, posters and presentations) in order to include it in our internal database. Please remember that the provided information should not be quite technical and addressed to a general public.

Note: RES requires that you mention the use of RES facilities in any of your publications with the sentence "The author thankfully acknowledges the computer resources at MachineName and technical support provided by NodeName (RES-ActivityID)." For example: "The author thankfully acknowledges the computer resources at MareNostrum and the technical support provided by Barcelona Supercomputing Center (RES-AECT-2014-2-0085)".
